

Talentscale Beefs Up Business Development Team, Promotes to Recruiting Team and Opens Aperture with New Service Offering

LAS VEGAS, NV – June 23, 2020: Talentscale, Inc. announced the promotion of three personnel to Business Development (BD) and Recruiting roles as well as an additional service offering.

In the Spring, Talentscale was awarded a Naval Air Systems Command (NAVAIR) Kits, Recovery, Augmentation, Components and Engines (KRACEn) indefinite-delivery, indefinite-quantity (IDIQ) multiple award contract (MAC). As a result of this contract win and an increased emphasis on the pursuit of long-range capture targets in the federal contracting space, Talentscale has actively recruited from within to build greater Business Development Lifecycle capability in pursuit of task orders associated with the new contract vehicle as well as unrelated long-term capture targets as both a prime and subcontractor.

Eric Khassanov Called Up to BD to Lead Newly Added Engineering Services Offering

Talentscale is pleased to announce that it will provide Engineering Services Starting in Q3-2020 as part of its offering. As Director of Business Development, Engineering Services, Eric Khassanov will lead all Business Development efforts for Talentscale. Eric has been a Senior Recruiter with Talentscale's Recruiting team for over a year and is a proud Veteran United States Marine Corps C-130 Airframes Mechanic with seven additional years of experience in the Staffing industry, with STS and PDS prior to joining the Talentscale team.

“Talentscale has historically been a provider of touch labor to the aviation and aerospace industries in support of aircraft maintenance, modification and manufacturing efforts. Though Talentscale has provided some engineering staff augmentation services in the past, we have identified Engineering Services as a growth area that Eric will own and grow. The move into this market makes sense, due to the inherent and constant need for engineering of some sort on all aviation programs; especially aircraft modification programs. It only makes sense for Talentscale to meet these needs as well”, explained Aaron Gill, Talentscale's VP of Aircraft Services & Programs.
